

Corel to Offer New Creative Experiences with Windows 7

Corel Corporation announced that it is working with Microsoft Corp. on Windows 7. Corel is committed to delivering its core applications for the Windows 7 platform and is currently developing its next generation of creative consumer products that will offer an all-new, hands-on experience built on the power of Windows Touch technology.

With the upcoming introduction of Windows 7, Corel is working closely with the company to prepare for the debut of this new operating system later this year.
