

Epson wins TIPA awards for ninth year in a row

Epson has continued its run of successes at the European Technical Image Press Association (TIPA) Awards with the sophisticatedly stylish Epson Stylus Photo TX800FW multifunction printer [Australian equivalent model: Epson Stylus Photo TX800FW], its breakthrough 64 inch eight colour large format printer the Epson Stylus Pro GS6000, and the technically brilliant Epson EH-TW5000 high definition home theatre projector all winning awards for 2009.

Epson's EH-TW5000 high definition home theatre projector was named 'Best expert photo projector', and the Epson Stylus Pro GS6000 large format printer was named 'Best large format printer in Europe for 2009'.

The Award judges say that only the most innovative products are taken into consideration for the TIPA awards.

Epson has won at least one TIPA Award every year since 2001, at least two every year since 2003, and in 2005 won four awards.
