

KIS Photobook Maker receives TIPA award

Both photo buffs and retail buyers praised this new kiosk, an impressive end-to-customer solution that can create albums, designed, print and bound in minutes. Ultra smart technology software is its cornerstone – customer photos are sorted into an aesthetically pleasing layout, based on photo date and archival properties, in just two minutes. High gloss, stain proof and scratch resistant paper, as well as a quality binding system, result in attractively built DVD jacket size albums.

To complete an album consumers simply bring images on a memory card or UBS stick to the KIS Photobook Maker, make selections and image orientation, choose a photo for the front cover and enter an album name to be printed on the KIS Photobook cover page and spine. Approximately eight minutes later, consumers leave the kiosk with their new Photobook in hand.

Up to 30 pages and 90 photos can be included in each 5.7 x 8-inches KIS Photobook which features 300 dpi print resolution, beautifully showcasing photos.

The KIS Photobook Maker will be on display at the PMA Imaging Technology show in Sydney in June.
